SOCIAL SKILLS

I am an excellent speaker and rapidly adapt to multicultural environments. For 2 years, I taught English at the Lisbon Senior Academy of the Portuguese Red Cross and Gulbenkian Foundation’s kinder garden. I have also done some voluntary work in social events and, after participating in the Initiation Course on University Voluntary, collaborated with the Student Nucleus of the Humanities School of the University of Lisbon. Through the Red Cross, I have also done voluntary work at the Prison Center of Lisbon.

ORGANIZATIONAL SKILLS

I can easily work in team and schedule my tasks with discipline and efficiency. I am very organized and punctual, while holding a solid study and work capacity.

INFORMATICS SKILLS

I can operate with most Microsoft Office programs and daily use Macintosh technology, from text production to presentation tools.

OTHER INFORMATION

I am a research assistant of the Centre for Research in Public Law of the University of Lisbon School of Law. During my graduation, I completed three intensive courses, the first two as an introduction to North-American Law (with professors Patrick Ryan Hugg and Russell Weaver) and the third on the European Union's external relations (with professor Rainer Arnold). I have done pro bono legal work, like translations to the British Embassy in Lisbon and I am a legal adviser to the Human Rights Observatory. I was the third chairman of the Lisbon Academic Debating Society and I swim, play the cello and practice water polo.
